

Welcome to A.B.O. Environmental Service !

We help to drive different types of machines, commercial auto, trucks, block heat power plants and power transformers more cost effectively. More efficiency is economical and ecological useful. Our Technologies reduces consumption, wear and enlarges lifetime. We accomplish the assumption for more economical growth!

Lets do more for machine efficiency and take your own solution from A.B.O. Environmental Service for more efficiency in your company!

It is true that:

- Modern aggregates, hydraulic systems and transformers do not work efficient without optimized purification, dehydration or degassing.
- But in many areas the potentials and possibilities of purification technology aren't completely known and therefore not consequently used.
- 70 – 80 % of the problems in hydraulic systems are caused by dirt in the systems
- Extremely expensive breakdown times of machines and complex systems are simply accepted.
- Components, oil and hydraulic fluids are changed without knowing the reasons for the problem
- The consequences are very high operation costs and an enormous environmental pollution

More than 10 years of experiences in the area of aggregate problem solving, maintenance and hygiene recommend A.B.O. Environmental Service for:

- Air filtration and - maintenance
- Oil filtration and - maintenance
- Filtration of operational water
- Lifetime Extension for Power transformers by transformer oil treating
- Emulsion filtration and - maintenance

Use A.B.O. Environmental Service experiences for your business advantage!

Our company has more than 10 years experience in lubricant management and optimization of internal processes in different companies. We have round about 600 customers in industries such as, agriculture machinery service, truck service centres, industrial services companies and locally energy supply centres for block heat power plants etc. We have great success with the vegetable oil boom in Europe, because every back fitting of an aggregate to vegetable oil operating needs our technology. Our Team is able to advise you in different needs and can develop individual solutions for the best customer advantage. We offer global technical service and on-site inspection regarding installation, support and training.
